Pricing Plan Options

Property management platform: two pricing structures starting at 15.99 per month

Overview

Both options start at 15.99 per month and use three tiers. Each is designed so that the entry plan feels complete enough to buy, while growth in portfolio size, tax obligations and maintenance workload creates a natural reason to move up.

Why it drives upgrades

- Property cap: the 6th property forces a decision. Use a hard cap with an in-app prompt to upgrade.
- MTD: a legal requirement for landlords above the income thresholds (50k from April 2026, falling to 30k in April 2027; verify before advertising). Starter is a stopgap for anyone near the threshold.
- Value per property: at full capacity Starter costs about 3.20 per property and Standard about 1.75, so Standard looks like the sensible choice for growing landlords.
- Anchoring: Premium at 69.99 makes Standard look reasonable, and the Most Popular label steers buyers to the middle plan.
- Maintenance management: once tenants are on the platform, repair requests arrive daily and landlords want them handled in one place.

Why Starter still sells

- It is a complete product for a small landlord: properties, tenants, rent tracking, compliance reminders and documents.
- Lead the marketing with compliance reminders, since missing a gas safety or EICR date is a landlord's biggest fear.
- Suggested message: "Everything a small landlord needs, for less than 16 a month."
- Show locked features (MTD, maintenance) greyed out inside the app so users see what they are missing.

Option B: Value-Packed

A more generous offer designed to win customers quickly: bigger entry limits, lower mid and top prices, a longer trial and a larger annual discount.

	Starter 15.99 per month	Growth (Best Value) 29.99 per month	Premium 54.99 per month

Launch offers to sit on top

- 30-day free trial, no card required.
- Founding-member price lock: the first 100 customers keep their launch price for 24 months.
- Refer a landlord: one free month for the referrer and the new customer.
- Free migration on Premium, to remove the effort of switching from a spreadsheet or another tool.

Why it still drives upgrades

- Starter holds 8 properties, which suits most small landlords, but MTD and full maintenance stay locked until Growth.
- Growth is only 14 more per month than Starter and quadruples the property limit, so the jump feels small.
- At full capacity Starter costs about 2.00 per property and Growth about 1.00, so the value of moving up is easy to see.
- Basic maintenance logging in Starter lets users start using the feature, which makes the full version more tempting once jobs pile up.

Which option to choose

	Option A: Upgrade-Driven	Option B: Value-Packed
Strengths	Higher revenue per customer; stronger upgrade pressure; protects margin	Easier to say yes to; longer trial builds habit; stronger referral and word of mouth
Risks	Some landlords may find the 5-property cap restrictive and leave before upgrading	Lower revenue per customer; more users may stay on Starter for longer
Best when	The product is already well known or the market is less price sensitive	You are launching, need early traction and want to build a customer base fast
Monthly revenue if 100 customers split 50 / 35 / 15	(50 x 15.99) + (35 x 34.99) + (15 x 69.99) = about 3,073	(50 x 15.99) + (35 x 29.99) + (15 x 54.99) = about 2,674

Recommendation

Launch with Option B to build the customer base and collect reviews, then move new sign-ups to Option A pricing after the first 6 months while keeping early customers on their locked prices. If you prefer to test rather than guess, run both for a month with half of your traffic each and compare trial-to-paid conversion and upgrade rate.

The revenue figures are illustrative only (they assume a 50 / 35 / 15 split and monthly billing). Real results depend on your actual mix of plans.
